HOLLY  CALDWELL

October 10, 2011

HOLLY CALDWELL AND SATYA TWENA CELEBRATE THE LAUNCH OF THEIR COLLABORATIVE SHOWROOM.

On Sept 21, 2011, Designers Holly Caldwell and Satya Twena hosted a celebration of over 200 guests marking the opening of their collaborative studio at SPACE530 in the heart of New York's Garment District. Theirs is a unique partnership, with Holly, the designer of an exquisite line of luxury handbags made in Italy, and Satya, a fine milliner whose hats are artful, beautifully detailed and hand made one at a time in New York City. Together, their combined showroom quickly becomes for most who visit, a joyful dressing closet, with a large mirror for viewing the full look their accessories can create. Both have taken great care in creating pieces that are unique, special, and exceedingly well crafted. Attention to every detail is evident across the board. The collections, though unique to each of their eponymous brands, are highly complimentary, which was in part the reason the two designers decided to partner as they have. Their studio launch party was both playful and elegant, very much like the designers themselves!
